band is a discreet and easy-to-use 5-speed vibrating ring. With a runtime of up to 2 hours, it is charged via USB and comes with a travel pouch perfect for storing your device and other essentials. Its premium soft-touch silicone shell is phthalate- and latex-free as well as water-resistant.

Your band will arrive in travel mode. Simply hold the button for 3 seconds and wait for two quick, high-speed vibrations accompanied by two flashes of light. To exit travel mode, hold the button again for another 3 seconds.

We recommend plugging directly into a wall outlet with a USB adapter (versus plugging into a device's USB port, like a computer). The tip of the device needs to be fully inserted for the band to charge.

It takes two hours for the band to fully charge. The light should turn on when your band is charging and turn off when complete.

Band runs on a lithium-ion battery, so there will be battery drainage over time. We recommend charging your band after every use for optimal life span. If the battery drains completely, the device will no longer work and cannot be charged.
